

VTech® Telecommunications to Offer its VoIP Phones Through Thing 5's Cloud-Based IP PBX Offering

BEAVERTON, Ore. Oct. 26, 2015 – VTech Telecommunications Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of VTech Holdings Limited (HKSE: 303), today announced that all of its hospitality SIP phone models and accessories will now be available through Thing 5's cloud-based IP PBX offering, T5 Voice.

Thing 5 developed the T5 Voice solution to deliver cost-effective IP phone service and comprehensive PBX functionality, with all of the benefits of cloud-based solutions like redundancy, disaster mitigation and a minimal on-premise hardware footprint.

"Thing 5's passion for the hospitality mirrors ours," said Simon Bradbrook, product and field support manager for VTech's hospitality division. "We match their pride in partnering with the most progressive and fast-growing brands, hotel companies and independent hotels in the industry and look forward to offering our best-in-class products with their modern, reliable service.

The VTech models involved include: S2100, S2210, S2220, S2211, S2221, CTM-S2411 and CTM-S2421.
